Once a patient develops complications of cirrhosis they have decompensated disease.

The ministers agree that corruption imposes a significant market access barrier and high costs for SMEs.

Information that will help address treatment gaps while your article suggests that such information exchanges will.

The current study includes all data recorded by the prospective surveillance programme between January 2004 and December 2007.